

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Special recognition is due to the colleagues of Dr. Ross Gunn for their suggestion of this Memorial Issue. Dr. Robert M. White supported the suggestion and gave encouragement in carrying it out. The planning, organization, and production required cooperation and hard work by many people. Dr. Helmut K. Weickmann and Mr. Byron B. Phillips, serving as Guest Editors of the Memorial Issue, assumed the heavy responsibility for selecting contributors and arranging for competent refereeing of the articles. We are particularly grateful to: Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer for publishing his memoir, "Ross Gunn—the Scientist and the Individual," in this Memorial Issue and for furnishing the list of Dr. Gunn's scientific publications and patents; to the authors for their contributions and cooperation in meeting tight deadlines; and to the referees for giving so freely of their time. Sincere appreciation is expressed to Misses Lillian Hamrick, Annie Grimes, and Suzanne DeCarre for checking bibliographic and reference materials; to Mr. Gabriel J. Bren, Mrs. Judy Shore, Mrs. Marcia Collie, and Miss Lila Paavola for technical and copy editing involving the coordination of a multitude of details in transforming manuscripts into the final publication; and to Mr. Edward W. Koehler for advice on production problems and for arranging and maintaining the tight, orderly printing schedule.

JAMES E. CASKEY, Jr., Editor
Monthly Weather Review, ESSA
Rockville, Maryland
November 1, 1967